

Macmillan

CANCER SUPPORT

What is Macmillan?

- Macmillan is a charity supporting people who suffer from an illness called cancer. Cancer has many varieties, which means they need a whole lot of money to help those affected, that's why we're selling delicious cakes to raise money for Macmillan, so they can help those in need.

How cancer can effect people?

- Cancer can effect people in many ways. Not only having the illness, but it can also be mentally hurtful.

48 people in our school know someone with or who had cancer and we're only small, so think how hard it is to help all these people get better!

What can we do to help?

- To support these people in need we raise money by selling these cupcakes so that macmillan can afford to care for the sick. Can you spare a pound?

To sum it up

- Understand that this might be upsetting, but raise enough money and we can control this and bring a halt to the calamity this has caused, together.

Thanks.